Worth Weight in Gold.

Abingdom, Va.—Mrs. Jennie McCall, of this place, says, "I had been troubled with female complaints, for over ten years. I could not walk or stand on my feet, and had been almost confined to the house, for a long time. I began to take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and now I can walk anywhere I want to go. Cardui is worth its weight in gold." This is a high estimate on a plain, herb medicine, yet there are thousands of women who would gladly pay this price for a remedy to relieve their suffering. Cardui has helped others. Why not you? Try it. Your druggist sells it in $1 bottles. —Advertisement.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly. No other Newspaper in the world gives so much at so low a price.

There never has been a time when a newspaper was more needed in the household. The great war in Europe has now entered its second year, with no promise of an end for a long time. These are world-shaking events, in which the United States, willing or unwilling, has been compelled to take a part. No intelligent person can ignore such issues.

The Presidential contest also will soon be at hand. Already candidates for the nomination are in the field, and the campaign, owing to the extraordinary character of the times, will be of supreme interest. No other newspaper will inform you with the promptness and cheapness of the Thrice-a-Week edition of the New York World.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together one year for $2.65. The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

Why We Count in Tens.

Because we have ten fingers we count in tens; therefore, for ease and quickness of reckoning all our measurements should be in tens. Then, in order to reckon, we should only have to use the very simple method which we learn when we study decimals.

MEN WITH DANGEROUS JOBS

Are Frequently Called on to Display Great Courage in the Moment of Trial.

Something of the spirit of that hypothetical sailor who pitied the poor folks on shore during a howling gale is found in the breasts of most men who earn their daily bread at the risk of life and limb, writes C. Clayton Terriss in the Wide World. It is, perhaps, a legacy of savage days that the dangers which can be met by quickness of eye and foot and hand always find men to face them even with delight.

The readiness and courage displayed by steeplejacks is often beyond praise. Two men were working on a scaffolding on a church steeple, and at one point it became necessary for one of them to stand on the other's shoulders to reach a part of the work.

Suddenly a pot of molten lead he was carrying was tipped over by some projection, and a quantity of the boiling metal dropped on the shoulders of the man below. The pain was excruciating, as it was unexpected, and it must have been very difficult for the victim to refrain from the start which would have precipitated both men into the street far below. But refrain he did; moreover, he held his ground until his mate could clamber down on to the platform again and help him away to the relief which he so badly needed. An act like that requires heroism of a very high order.

THE JUNGLE CIRCUS

The Toucan—Why in the world did you have all those stars painted on your hide?

The Monkey—Why, Bill Zebra and I are going to do a turn called the "Stars and Stripes."

SOMEWHAT DIFFERENT.

Meeker—My wife's front name is Emma.

Bleeker—Well, what of it?
 Meeker—Oh, I merely mentioned it for the purpose of setting myself right. You may think I am hen-pecked, but I'm not—even if I do look as if I were slightly Em-bossed at times.

WHAT SHE WANTED.

"And now, madam, what about penciling the brows?"

"I think," said Mrs. Nurich, "I'd like one of these highbrow effects that I read so much about in the papers."

ITS SORT.

"The convict who was planning an escape forgot all about hiding his file."

"What criminal carelessness!"

FAST AND FAR.

Grubbs—Do you find that your wife can keep a secret?

Stubbs—Well, not exactly; but she can keep it going.

THE KIND.

"Do you believe that trouble comes in cycles?"

"Very often it does if they're motorcycles."

ALSO SUPERFLUOUS.

"Pa, what is an anomaly?"

"I can't explain the term very well, son, but a deckhand on a submarine would be anomalous."

ITS JOB.

"Why do you call this sketch of yours 'Wrinkles'?"

"Because I want it to be a head-liner."

THE REASON OF IT.

"Jobs seems to have an elastic income."

"Why not? He made his money in rubber."
